

From 1 October 2018, you will need an appointment to access NHS services at Battle Hill Health Centre

- Walk-in services are moving to a new Urgent Treatment Centre at North Tyneside General Hospital (Rake Lane). You will be able to book an appointment with the Urgent Treatment Centre by calling NHS 111, or walk in and wait between 8am and midnight, seven days a week
- You will no longer be able to access a walk in service at Battle Hill Health Centre
- Registered patients will be able to make an appointment at the Battle Hill GP practice by calling 0191 295 8520
- Extra GP appointments are also available at Battle Hill and across North Tyneside at evenings and weekends. Call your GP practice or NHS 111 to book one of these appointments
